

Jump TO Article

The article on the pages below is reprinted by permission from United Service (the journal of the Royal United Services Institute of New South Wales), which seeks to inform the defence and security debate in Australia and to bring an Australian perspective to that debate internationally.

The Royal United Services Institute of New South Wales (RUSI NSW) has been promoting informed debate on defence and security issues since 1888. To receive quarterly copies of United Service and to obtain other significant benefits of RUSI NSW membership, please see our online Membership page:

www.rusinsw.org.au/Membership

Jump TO Article

LETTER

Royal United Services Institute Libraries

I enjoyed David Leece's article on the history of the Royal United Services Institute of New South Wales and its current suite of activities (United Service 67 (1), 25 – 28). I was particularly heartened to read that the Ursula Davidson Library is likely to be relocated to a place that is more accessible to the public.

Similarly, the Royal United Services Institute of Victoria has a magnificent military library that is 'trapped' behind the walls of Victoria Barracks Melbourne. Seeing that valuable asset relocate to a research facility in the nearby Shrine of Remembrance would be a tremendous advance.

Marcus Fielding

RUSI of Victoria, 12 April 2016